
Montana Film Office Offers All Expense Paid Fam Trip

Contributed by Steve Cha

As part of the its new incentive package, Studio 406, the Montana Film Office is offering the chance for one filmmaker to win a free four-day, three-night location familiarization trip to Montana. The trip includes accommodations, meals, transportation and...

As part of the its new incentive package, Studio 406, the Montana Film Office is offering the chance for one filmmaker to win a free four-day, three-night location familiarization trip to Montana. The trip includes accommodations, meals, transportation and a guided tour of various locations around the state. Additionally prizes include custom Flip Video MinoHDTs.

The contest began October 15, 2009 at 12:01 a.m. Mountain Time (MST) and will end at 11:59 p.m. MST on January 31, 2010.

The Studio 406 incentive package bundles all of Montana's incentives, including: a 14% refundable tax credit based on hired Montana labor, a 9% refundable tax credit for production expenses without a cap or minimum spend, no sales tax, free office furniture, low cost or free location fees, long shooting hours, experienced crews, and hundreds of different looks.

For information on the Montana Fam Trip Giveaway or to enter, visit www.scout406.com . Information about the Montana Film Office and the Studio 406 incentive package is available at www.montanafilm.com .